About us

Is your wish for guests in your hotel, guesthouse or apartments to feel like at home?

Well, why would they want to come back, if you create for them the same experience, as when they are staying the night at home after long and tiring day, where they are bathing with the cosmetic products well known from their hypermarket without any thought, only so they could tiredly put themselves into bed without any semblance of enjoyment?

Our specialization is to accompany your guests from scented night bath to softly bed linen covered beds and perhaps there can be find a moment for well chilled champagne from noise-free hotel room minibar. Night spent in your facility will change then into experience the guests will happily remember for long weeks and months with desire to revisit you again.

Hotel cosmetics

In ALDA, you will find a high-quality and wide range of products from the hotel cosmetics line that will attract and surely satisfy even the most demanding clients of your accommodation facilities. ALDA hotel cosmetics introduce you ten cosmetic lines, which differ in their design, color, aroma, composition and breadth of the assortment. All cosmetic lines are of high quality, respecting the highest and most demanding requirements of our customers, even with regard to the impact on the environment. Our cosmetic products are delivered in packaging, which is produced by the so-called EcoPure technology, which guarantees much faster biodegradability of these packaging. All products of our company are manufactured in accordance with the criteria of the international certification company INTERTEK.

ALDA hotel equipment a.s. cares about the environment and monitors the environmental impact of all its activities. We feel great social responsibility and accountability for our business. Therefore, we offer and supply our customers with top-quality cosmetic products that can meet their high expectations in terms of quality, design, breadth of range, variety, etc. As one of the few in our industry in Europe, we offer almost all of our products packaged in plastic packaging with EcoPure technology. This unique patented technology, based on the addition of special organic additives during the manufacturing process, guarantees a planned process in which these additives ensure 100% biodegradability of the packaging once it is landfilled. This happens within 10-15 years depending on the environmental conditions (temperature, humidity, sunlight, etc.). Another major advantage is that the addition of these special organic additives has no negative effect on the quality, durability, usability or appearance of the packaging.

Contemporary young Italian fashion designers who are dazzling with their colorful creations have inspired us to create brand collection Carlo Bellotti which significant ingredient is marula oil. This natural product which is obtained from the kernels of the fruits of Marula tree has multifunctional effects on a skin. It has high ratio of polyunsaturated fatty acids which allow skin to retain water in its cells and therefore prevent its excessive evaporation. It contains high amount of vitamin C and whole range of antioxidants.

collection

The Herbal Collection is exceptional for its very pleasant, refreshing and captivating scent of citrus and ver-bena, as well as the content of the plant ingredient ginseng which has been used for its beneficial properties for over than 5,000 years. Ginseng gives the human body increased resistance to physical exertion and stress, and in cosmetics it has an irreplaceable role in combating dry and aging skin, optimizing its nutrition and thus preventing wrinkles. The Herbal Collection is a modern cosmetics line that responds to today's trends.

hotel amenities ...

Hotel Amenities will help you to reach the maximum comfort for your guests and make the overall experience of the stay more pleasant. It may seem that these are marginal issues that no one will notice and appreciate. However, it is quite the opposite. These are very important things for your guests, which are appreciated under any circumstances. These accessories will give your guests the feeling that they are properly cared for by you.
